

'Ugly' gunman arrested after 2nd bar shooting

MIAMI — A man wanted in connection with an execution-style barroom slaying was arrested after a Saturday night shootout that killed one and wounded three others in another bar, police said Monday.

The fugitive, known as "El Feo" — The Ugly One — was shot in the ankle Saturday night. "El Feo," real name Andreas Danilo Gonzalez, 37, has been charged with second-degree murder in connection with another slaying, police said.

Miami police had been seeking Gonzalez since a killing at the 22 & 22 Cafeteria parking lot earlier this month.

The victim in that case, Rafael Tavaraz, 38, apparently talked to a woman companion of Gonzalez, who took offense, police said.

The Saturday night shootout at the Los Bucaneros bar killed the owner, Juan Velazco, 45. Police said Gonzalez was with the alleged killer, Gilberto Bacallao, who is at large.
